

QUARREL OVER BOOK

Socialist Takes Exception to Wichita Woman's Work

HE ENJOINS ITS ISSUE

Because It Seems to Give the Color of His Soul.

Miss Zoe Anderson Norris, formerly the wife of "Ephraim" Norris of this city, has trouble in New York with her book, just published, "The Color of His Soul." A Socialist there named Lemmon, antecedents not known, has objected to the circulation of the book. The story is told in the New York Journal as follows:

"Courtney Lemmon, in his controversy with Pank & Wagnall, publishers of 'The Color of His Soul,' by Zoe Anderson Norris, has stumbled upon legal matters. It appears that Mrs. Norris has retained a lawyer and he has instructed the publishers that there is no legal remedy for Lemmon.

"Melvin G. Winstock, attorney for Mrs. Norris, has written Lemmon a letter in which he informs him in language terse and to the point that there is nothing in the book in question upon which he can base a legal action; that a writer of a book has a perfect and undeniable right to draw characters from real life, and that if he persists in hoping up the controversy, an injunction will be obtained from the supreme court.

"Lemmon is a moment of plaque read the book, and says that to his horror he discovered he was the hero of the story. He is not mentioned by name, of course, but he can find the first brick of identity when he called upon the publishers in a tearful manner and complained that his innermost life was set forth to the public in cold black type. He also wanted Pank & Wagnall to withdraw the work. Mrs. Norris from circulation, as he was convinced the sale of the volume would be sufficient to reveal his character to his acquaintances. Melvin G. Winstock, the lawyer in the case, said yesterday:

"Lemmon has absolutely no grounds for legal action. It is not the first time that a writer has drawn his or her characters from real life. I believe that the most satisfactory and the most successful of all writers, both Thackeray and Dickens made use of living people in their works. Lemmon is guilty of placing himself in a light which is the reverse of that which he admits. He is the character portrayed. After reading the book, I should certainly hesitate before I identified myself as even remotely similar to the character of Cecil. I have written him that he must cease his annoyance to my clients and the publishers, or I shall be compelled to obtain the usual legal redress for the proper protection of my client."

"Mrs. Norris in her work described a man of a certain self-satisfied egotistical type, a man who deliberately thought out phrases calculated to influence the emotions of the reader, who was absolutely without morality or even gratitude, a wrecker of homes and several other unmentionable things. Then young Lemmon reads the book. It is almost possible to hear him say:

"Why, this is myself! I am here held up to the astonished world as a naughty man. I must stop this thing, and at once." Then he called on the publishers and ordered his book to be withdrawn. He is a Socialist, and is a disciple of Dr. Heron, the apostle of a code of morals of which it is not necessary to speak. He himself admits the character as drawn by Mrs. Norris is a comparatively faithful portrayal of his own self. No one accused him, yet he deliberately revealed his own identity.

"Mrs. Norris' attorney says he has been informed that Lemmon's object was not so much a vindication of his character as a desire to share to some extent in the profits of the book. It may be stated that no arrangement has been given him in this direction."

"The New York World, giving a picture of the same subject, prints the following on the same subject:

"Mrs. Zoe Anderson Norris, author of 'The Color of His Soul,' issued about two weeks ago from the press of Pank & Wagnall, says that her book is being suppressed through the threat of Courtney Lemmon of this city, socialist lecturer and writer.

"The story is founded on socialistic lies, and Mrs. Norris has discovered, according to Mrs. Norris, that the portrait of the leading character is intended to depict so closely himself, and the utterances ascribed to the fictitious character, as to cause a relative who had been so closely connected with the author to be exposed to an unpleasant extent.

"He has, therefore, Mrs. Norris says, succeeded in having the book withheld from circulation, pending a satisfactory arrangement with him.

"Manner of Pank & Wagnall, admitted yesterday that 'The Color of His Soul' had been withdrawn from the market, but he said it was for other reasons than those given by Mrs. Norris. He said that there were several points in her work which warranted an investigation. He said the investigation would be ended on next Monday."

"The people of Wichita who know Mrs. Norris cannot fail to be interested in the outcome of her suit."

HAD A BIG TIME
State Council of Red Men Met Last Night.

The Improved Order of Red Men held a state council yesterday afternoon and last night in their hall over 121 North Market street. The purpose was the conferring of the Grand Sachem honors on a number of candidates. A. A. Ellis of Emporia, A. Rolfe, of Atchison, members of the Grand Lodge, were present to confer the degrees.

Those taking the degrees were: D. R. Cresson, Henry Schmitt, A. E. Ridd, Chas. Reiz, A. A. Buck, W. J. Roushart.

MILWAUKEE PEOPLE

Could Hardly Believe It. A Prominent Woman Saved From Death by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

IS A GOOD INVESTMENT

It Beats the High Priced
Lands of Illinois.

Mr. S. L. Conine yesterday closed a trade for one of the good farms in this valley. He gets what is known as the Lee farm, between this city and Valley Center. It consists of a half section and the price is $14,000.

Mr. Conine is one of the Illinois farmers who saw that farm lands were selling comparatively cheap in this valley and he came here about six years ago and bought a large farm near Tolerville. He recently sold it for $25,000 and made about $7,500 on his investment in addition to the use of the land for the time he owned it. He thinks farm lands are the proper things for safe investment and that there is no place in America offering so many inducements as the Arkansas valley.

The Eagle more than a year since called attention to the fact that the fine productive farm lands in this valley were selling too cheaply and that there must of necessity be an advance in prices. Men with money are seeing this and the price of farm lands is gradually going up, but there are still cheap ones.

Men who buy land for investment always determine its value from its production. That is the only true way to value it. Taking this method of determining the value of farm lands, it will be found cheaper in the country tributary to this city than anywhere else in this whole country. There is no other large section of the products of the soil will show such rich returns. This section beats central Illinois out of sight for wheat one year with another and the yield of corn is good here as in Illinois. Farmers who market their hogs, cattle and wheat in Wichita, get as much money for them as the farmer in central Illinois. Farm lands in the state of Illinois sell from $20 to $25 an acre.

These are facts which tell their own story and farmers like Mr. Conine can understand them, and they are selling farm lands east of the Mississippi river and bringing their money to Kansas to invest in just as good, but cheaper land. This trade in farm lands has always been the beginning of a great era of investment in this section and the rule will probably hold good now.

Foley's Honey and Tar is best for croup and whooping cough, contains no opiates, and cures quickly. Careful mothers keep it in the house. Sold by G. Gehring, 400 E. Douglas; Geo. Van Warden, 228 N. Main; Wichita Drug Co., 110 E. Douglas.

REIFF
FAMOUS JOCKEY VISITS WICHITA,
HIS FORMER HOME.

Gives His Opinion of the English and Talks About Racing.

John Reiff, known on two continents and the most popular jockey in the world is in this city. He arrived here last Sunday evening from California, where his parents now live and he will remain here visiting his brother, Elmer Reiff of the Union Live Stock Commission company, for about a week.

He is under contract to ride this year for Captain Gallant who owns one of the best stables of horses in France and he will leave New York for France some time next week. Heretofore his brother Elmer has been his manager, but now John will go it alone this year. He will ride in the race in France for three years.

It is like the derby in England and the winner of the first prize gets a large sum of money. John Reiff is a relative who jockey hopes to ride the winner and he will certainly do it unless somebody else rides a good deal better horse.

A reporter for the Eagle met John yesterday and he would not have recognized him if he had not been with his brother, Elmer. He has very greatly improved in appearance during the last year. He appears to be much more robust and the appearance of a trained athlete. When the reporter remarked his improved appearance and predicted that this year would end his race riding, John said he would not. He said that he had ridden this year at one hundred and five pounds, but he was still five pounds lighter than that now. Last year he only weighed eighty-five pounds and he had gained fifteen pounds since then.

When asked how he liked to live in Europe John said he would rather live anywhere in America than in the best part of England or France. He said that he had not turned his head, but that fact has not turned his head. He is the same little gentleman that the people of this city knew before he became so famous. John says he thinks the people of England and France are very much better than he thought they were just as good a chance as anybody there except an Englishman. He says he has no idea of how the people of the United States are getting on. He says he has not been to England for a long time and he has not been to France for a long time.

The famous jockey is very modest about his earnings and he said the people here had an idea that he got large sums of money. He said that he got regular salary when he won a big race. He says that he sometimes get something on the side, but the amount depends on the liberality of the owner of the horse. Some of the English he said were liberal and others were not in the habit of giving away very much money after they got their fingers on it.

John Reiff is the model jockey in more respects than one. He never gives any information about the horses he has ridden more than to say they are good ones. It is doubtful if anybody ever secured any pointers from John about the kind of horse he was going to ride. He says he is under contract to ride, but never does any training. He may frequently be called upon to ride a horse in an important race, but he has never been called upon to ride a horse in a race that he had ridden several times. It seemed to be his idea not to learn the horse's ways but to make him do his work.

LITTLE SON DEAD
Luther Wagstaff Passed Away Yesterday Morning.

Luther Wagstaff, the three-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wagstaff, died at their home yesterday morning of pneumonia. The funeral services will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home 124 South Lawrence avenue. Interment will be in Highland cemetery.

John Reiff is the model jockey in more respects than one. He never gives any information about the horses he has ridden more than to say they are good ones. It is doubtful if anybody ever secured any pointers from John about the kind of horse he was going to ride. He says he is under contract to ride, but never does any training. He may frequently be called upon to ride a horse in an important race, but he has never been called upon to ride a horse in a race that he had ridden several times. It seemed to be his idea not to learn the horse's ways but to make him do his work.

ILLNESS OF DAVID ROSS
Well Known Citizen Operated Upon at Wichita Hospital.

Mr. David Ross, one of the early settlers in Wichita, and one of the most popular business men of this city, was taken to the Wichita hospital Sunday where Dr. Hoffman operated upon him for appendicitis yesterday. Dr. Hoffman, who is a prominent physician in this city, said that while he hoped to get him quickly made of his very sick man, Dr. Hoffman made at the hospital last night, he was a little better today. He said that he was a little better today, but he was still very sick. He said that he was a little better today, but he was still very sick.

The people of Wichita, especially the old timers, are hoping for Mr. Ross speedy recovery and would be pained, indeed, if any unfavorable conditions would set in. Mr. Ross has been one of Wichita's most admirable citizens, always mild mannered, conservative, loyal to his town and his friends, and his sickness no more a worthy of more kindness and sympathy. In his suffering which it is hoped will be brief, Mrs. Ross and her charming little family can feel assured of the kindest and most heartfelt wishes of the many friends of their husband and father.

OLD SETTLER CALLED HOME
Mrs. Lucinda Harvey Passes Away at a Ripe Age.

Mrs. Lucinda Harvey passed peacefully away at the residence of her son-in-law, George H. Smith, yesterday at 2:40 p. m. Mrs. Harvey was stricken with paralysis last October and has been steadily failing ever since.

She was born in Kentucky January 8, 1825, married to John C. Harvey in 1842, and came to Wichita in 1875, where she has since lived. Mr. Harvey dying in 1877, Mrs. Harvey was the mother of the children, all of whom survive her, one son now living in California, one in Kentucky and one in South Africa. The three daughters, Mrs. D. M. Kirkbride, of Emporia, Ohio, Mrs. W. C. Gentry of Webb City, Mo., and Mrs. George Smith, were all at their mother's bedside at the last.

Mrs. Harvey was one of the gentlest of women, a perfect type of the old-time southern lady—best loved by those who knew her best, and for many years lived a consistent Christian life, dying in full faith of a happy life beyond the grave. The funeral services will be held at the residence of George H. Smith, 977 Texas avenue, West Side, on Wednesday afternoon and will be conducted by Rev. A. E. Dabber, hour to be announced later.

$14,000 FARM SOLD

S. L. Conine Buys a Good
Farm in This Valley.

IS A GOOD INVESTMENT

It Beats the High Priced
Lands of Illinois.

Mr. S. L. Conine yesterday closed a trade for one of the good farms in this valley. He gets what is known as the Lee farm, between this city and Valley Center. It consists of a half section and the price is $14,000.

Mr. Conine is one of the Illinois farmers who saw that farm lands were selling comparatively cheap in this valley and he came here about six years ago and bought a large farm near Tolerville. He recently sold it for $25,000 and made about $7,500 on his investment in addition to the use of the land for the time he owned it. He thinks farm lands are the proper things for safe investment and that there is no place in America offering so many inducements as the Arkansas valley.

The Eagle more than a year since called attention to the fact that the fine productive farm lands in this valley were selling too cheaply and that there must of necessity be an advance in prices. Men with money are seeing this and the price of farm lands is gradually going up, but there are still cheap ones.

Men who buy land for investment always determine its value from its production. That is the only true way to value it. Taking this method of determining the value of farm lands, it will be found cheaper in the country tributary to this city than anywhere else in this whole country. There is no other large section of the products of the soil will show such rich returns. This section beats central Illinois out of sight for wheat one year with another and the yield of corn is good here as in Illinois. Farmers who market their hogs, cattle and wheat in Wichita, get as much money for them as the farmer in central Illinois. Farm lands in the state of Illinois sell from $20 to $25 an acre.

These are facts which tell their own story and farmers like Mr. Conine can understand them, and they are selling farm lands east of the Mississippi river and bringing their money to Kansas to invest in just as good, but cheaper land. This trade in farm lands has always been the beginning of a great era of investment in this section and the rule will probably hold good now.

Foley's Honey and Tar is best for croup and whooping cough, contains no opiates, and cures quickly. Careful mothers keep it in the house. Sold by G. Gehring, 400 E. Douglas; Geo. Van Warden, 228 N. Main; Wichita Drug Co., 110 E. Douglas.

REIFF
FAMOUS JOCKEY VISITS WICHITA,
HIS FORMER HOME.

Gives His Opinion of the English and Talks About Racing.

John Reiff, known on two continents and the most popular jockey in the world is in this city. He arrived here last Sunday evening from California, where his parents now live and he will remain here visiting his brother, Elmer Reiff of the Union Live Stock Commission company, for about a week.

He is under contract to ride this year for Captain Gallant who owns one of the best stables of horses in France and he will leave New York for France some time next week. Heretofore his brother Elmer has been his manager, but now John will go it alone this year. He will ride in the race in France for three years.

It is like the derby in England and the winner of the first prize gets a large sum of money. John Reiff is a relative who jockey hopes to ride the winner and he will certainly do it unless somebody else rides a good deal better horse.

A reporter for the Eagle met John yesterday and he would not have recognized him if he had not been with his brother, Elmer. He has very greatly improved in appearance during the last year. He appears to be much more robust and the appearance of a trained athlete. When the reporter remarked his improved appearance and predicted that this year would end his race riding, John said he would not. He said that he had ridden this year at one hundred and five pounds, but he was still five pounds lighter than that now. Last year he only weighed eighty-five pounds and he had gained fifteen pounds since then.

When asked how he liked to live in Europe John said he would rather live anywhere in America than in the best part of England or France. He said that he had not turned his head, but that fact has not turned his head. He is the same little gentleman that the people of this city knew before he became so famous. John says he thinks the people of England and France are very much better than he thought they were just as good a chance as anybody there except an Englishman. He says he has no idea of how the people of the United States are getting on. He says he has not been to England for a long time and he has not been to France for a long time.

The famous jockey is very modest about his earnings and he said the people here had an idea that he got large sums of money. He said that he got regular salary when he won a big race. He says that he sometimes get something on the side, but the amount depends on the liberality of the owner of the horse. Some of the English he said were liberal and others were not in the habit of giving away very much money after they got their fingers on it.

John Reiff is the model jockey in more respects than one. He never gives any information about the horses he has ridden more than to say they are good ones. It is doubtful if anybody ever secured any pointers from John about the kind of horse he was going to ride. He says he is under contract to ride, but never does any training. He may frequently be called upon to ride a horse in an important race, but he has never been called upon to ride a horse in a race that he had ridden several times. It seemed to be his idea not to learn the horse's ways but to make him do his work.

LITTLE SON DEAD
Luther Wagstaff Passed Away Yesterday Morning.

Luther Wagstaff, the three-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wagstaff, died at their home yesterday morning of pneumonia. The funeral services will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home 124 South Lawrence avenue. Interment will be in Highland cemetery.

John Reiff is the model jockey in more respects than one. He never gives any information about the horses he has ridden more than to say they are good ones. It is doubtful if anybody ever secured any pointers from John about the kind of horse he was going to ride. He says he is under contract to ride, but never does any training. He may frequently be called upon to ride a horse in an important race, but he has never been called upon to ride a horse in a race that he had ridden several times. It seemed to be his idea not to learn the horse's ways but to make him do his work.

ILLNESS OF DAVID ROSS
Well Known Citizen Operated Upon at
Wichita Hospital.

Mr. David Ross, one of the early settlers in Wichita, and one of the most popular business men of this city, was taken to the Wichita hospital Sunday where Dr. Hoffman operated upon him for appendicitis yesterday. Dr. Hoffman, who is a prominent physician in this city, said that while he hoped to get him quickly made of his very sick man, Dr. Hoffman made at the hospital last night, he was a little better today. He said that he was a little better today, but he was still very sick. He said that he was a little better today, but he was still very sick.

The people of Wichita, especially the old timers, are hoping for Mr. Ross speedy recovery and would be pained, indeed, if any unfavorable conditions would set in. Mr. Ross has been one of Wichita's most admirable citizens, always mild mannered, conservative, loyal to his town and his friends, and his sickness no more a worthy of more kindness and sympathy. In his suffering which it is hoped will be brief, Mrs. Ross and her charming little family can feel assured of the kindest and most heartfelt wishes of the many friends of their husband and father.

OLD SETTLER CALLED HOME
Mrs. Lucinda Harvey Passes Away at a Ripe Age.

Mrs. Lucinda Harvey passed peacefully away at the residence of her son-in-law, George H. Smith, yesterday at 2:40 p. m. Mrs. Harvey was stricken with paralysis last October and has been steadily failing ever since.

She was born in Kentucky January 8, 1825, married to John C. Harvey in 1842, and came to Wichita in 1875, where she has since lived. Mr. Harvey dying in 1877, Mrs. Harvey was the mother of the children, all of whom survive her, one son now living in California, one in Kentucky and one in South Africa. The three daughters, Mrs. D. M. Kirkbride, of Emporia, Ohio, Mrs. W. C. Gentry of Webb City, Mo., and Mrs. George Smith, were all at their mother's bedside at the last.

recovery and would be pained, indeed, if any unfavorable conditions would set in. Mr. Ross has been one of Wichita's most admirable citizens, always mild mannered, conservative, loyal to his town and his friends, and his sickness no more a worthy of more kindness and sympathy. In his suffering which it is hoped will be brief, Mrs. Ross and her charming little family can feel assured of the kindest and most heartfelt wishes of the many friends of their husband and father.

OLD SETTLER CALLED HOME
Mrs. Lucinda Harvey Passes Away at a Ripe Age.

Mrs. Lucinda Harvey passed peacefully away at the residence of her son-in-law, George H. Smith, yesterday at 2:40 p. m. Mrs. Harvey was stricken with paralysis last October and has been steadily failing ever since.

She was born in Kentucky January 8, 1825, married to John C. Harvey in 1842, and came to Wichita in 1875, where she has since lived. Mr. Harvey dying in 1877, Mrs. Harvey was the mother of the children, all of whom survive her, one son now living in California, one in Kentucky and one in South Africa. The three daughters, Mrs. D. M. Kirkbride, of Emporia, Ohio, Mrs. W. C. Gentry of Webb City, Mo., and Mrs. George Smith, were all at their mother's bedside at the last.

Mrs. Harvey was one of the gentlest of women, a perfect type of the old-time southern lady—best loved by those who knew her best, and for many years lived a consistent Christian life, dying in full faith of a happy life beyond the grave. The funeral services will be held at the residence of George H. Smith, 977 Texas avenue, West Side, on Wednesday afternoon and will be conducted by Rev. A. E. Dabber, hour to be announced later.

PITIALE
CASE OF MRS. ANNIE KOEHLER
ON SOUTH TOPEKA.

Officers Take Her to Save a Daughter
From Insanity.

Mrs. Annie Koehler was arrested yesterday morning by Deputy Sheriff McPherson on the charge of insanity. Mrs. Koehler and her daughter live at 412 South Topeka avenue. Miss Koehler is a member of the Reformed church and is reported to be one of the best members of that organization. Mrs. Koehler is afflicted with an incurable disease which has greatly affected her mind and she has been taken care of by her daughter and in the arrest was made yesterday simply to save the young lady from becoming a raving maniac. Miss Koehler has been taking care of her mother for a number of years and she has been very kind and patient. She has been a member of the church for many years and she has been a very good mother. She has been a very good mother and she has been a very good mother.

But the skin within is the skin without. A covering skin and a thin skin. Doubled inwardly and carried completely throughout.

"The palate, nostrils, the windpipe and are all of them lined with this inner coat. Which through every part is made to expand, contract and move, and to end."

Regarding the internal skin a distinguished physiologist says:

"Mucous membrane lines all those passages by which the external parts communicate with the exterior, and by which other matters are eliminated from the body. It is a thin, delicate, and very sensitive membrane, and it is the seat of many diseases. It is the seat of many diseases and it is the seat of many diseases."

Rev. Bruce Griffith went to the Probate court yesterday and swore out a complaint against the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

The Doctor Talks.

He Tells of Two Skins; An Outside Skin or Covering and an Inside Skin or a Lining Skin.

He Points Out Some Diseases that Frequently Affect These Tissues

Garments and Tells How they May be Cured.

The skin is a garment for underlying tissues and the natural covering and lining of the body. The outside covering is commonly understood as the skin, while the inside lining is called mucous membrane.

"There's a skin without and a skin within. A covering skin and a lining skin. Doubled inwardly and carried completely throughout."

"The palate, nostrils, the windpipe and are all of them lined with this inner coat. Which through every part is made to expand, contract and move, and to end."

Regarding the internal skin a distinguished physiologist says:

"Mucous membrane lines all those passages by which the external parts communicate with the exterior, and by which other matters are eliminated from the body. It is a thin, delicate, and very sensitive membrane, and it is the seat of many diseases. It is the seat of many diseases and it is the seat of many diseases."

Rev. Bruce Griffith went to the Probate court yesterday and swore out a complaint against the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.

He went to the house and could not find the mother of the young lady who was taken to the hospital. He said that he had been a member of the church for many years and he had been a very good member. He had been a very good member and he had been a very good member.